

YEAR in review July 1, 2015– June 30, 2016

July

MiMi Cooper, Health Director for 36 years announced her plans to retire in December.

Staff received guidelines requiring childcare centers to have preparedness training.

September

WIC staff awarded the Sparkle Award from the NC Public Health Association.

Dental Health hosted State Dental Calibration.

November

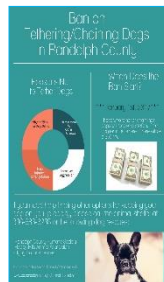

Board announced Susan Hayes is the new Health Director.

January

Anti-tethering law became effective January 1.

Susan Hayes began as Health Director.

March

Dental Health offered fluoride mouth rinse in four elementary schools within the county.

The Health Department hosted the fifth annual Mutt Strut soup lunch, raising $600 for the animal shelter.

May

The Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program transferred to Randolph Hospital.

The negative pressure (isolation) room renovated.

August

Health Department participated in preparedness planning with NC Zoo regarding Avian Influenza.

Animal Control staff began using computers in the field. Anti-tethering law passed by Randolph County Commissioners at the health director's request.

October

Health Department staff raised $1,092 to support Randolph Hospitals' Mammography Fund.

Staff assisted the NC Zoo in fit testing their Employees for Avian Influenza preparedness.

December

The Health Department and local partners held a Medical Counter Measures Point of Dispensing event at Randolph Community College.

Mimi Cooper retired.

February

Public health staff participated in Zika Preparedness efforts.

April

Child Care Coordination and Health Education participated in the fourth annual PlayDaze event sponsored by the Randolph County Partnership for Children.

Animal Control began participating in Pet of the Week on Fox 8 News.

June

Second annual employee appreciation luncheon was held.

